Purpose and Objectives of Service

The aim of Integrated Children & Youth Services Centre is to assist children and young people to become happy, mature, responsible and contributing members of society by means of participation and experience. The specific objectives of centre are:

1. To facilitate personal development of children and youth by assisting them for better self-understanding, emotional handling, to develop their problem solving and stress management capacity and to explore their potential.
2. To assist children and youth to acquire positive social values, and to establish harmonious interpersonal and family relationship.
3. To enable the development of social consciousness among children and youth to contribute to the well being of the community.
4. To provide support and guidance for those children and young people who are deprived from social resources or living in an unfavorable environment.
5. To closely collaborate with the community so as to provide a supportive environment for the growth and development of children and young people.

Target Group of Service

Centre provides service to children and young people, between the ages of 6 to 24 in Tsuen Wan district and their families in the service.

Scope of Service

By means of Centre service, school social work service and outreaching social work service, the following four core services are provided through case work approach, group and community activities according to community needs.

1. Guidance and counselling
2. Supportive Programmes
3. Developmental & Socialization Programmes
4. Community Engagement Programmes

Varieties of supportive programmes including recreational activities, interest classes/groups, study/reading room facilities are also provided.
